ST. JOSEPH, Mo., June 4 .- (Special Telegram to The Bee.)-The St. Joe team had a walkaway with Omaha today to the racket of Hard hitting on the part of the home team characterized the game throughout. Whitehill was knocked out of the box in the second inning, and Pedros, who succeeded him, fared even worse. He had to be relieved in the eighth inning by Rourke, who was pounded hard, but not safely. In the sixth inning, when two hits and a base on balls had filled the bags for St. Joe, Mc-Kibben stepped to the plate and planted a long, high fly over the left field fence. In the seventh the home team endeavored to play horse with the visitors, and they lit onto the ball with such vigor that four men crossed the plate. Score ST. JOSEPH.

WASH DAY ON THE RUNNING TRACKS.

Soundmore Saves His Backers' Money by Fine Finish at St. Louis. LOUIS, June 4.-A card that was but ordinary in its characteristics was fortunately relieved in the fourth event by an unexpected brilliant contest, which ended with Soundmore the victor. The start was good and the bunch kept well together making it almost any one's race to near the turn into the stretch. There Soundmore, Logan, Pekin, First Chance, Mulberry and one or two others began to make a hot pace. Just after passing the last sixteenth pole two of the horses swerved to the outside rail, and Soundmore, coming down the center, won by a neck from Logan in a rattling finish. The talent broke even on the day, three favorites and three even on the day, three favorites and three outsiders winning. CINCINNATI, June 4.—Only one favorite, Arapahoe, in the first race, won at Latonia today. It was a short horse day in all the other four events. While the horses were standing in line for the fourth race a terrific rain storm passed over the track, covering it with mud in a little while, making the going very heavy. Ondague, the favorite (8 to 5), ran fourth, while a 15 to 1 shot, Crescent, landed the purse. Mary Keene, at 7 to 1, won the final event, while Valkyrie (3 to 1) was never heard from. CRICKETANA.

Notes and Comments on the Players and Their Play.

The games on Decoration day and last Saturday demonstrated the fact that the Omaha Cricket club has some first-class talent among its members. In general, the bowling and batting were both good, while the fielding, in many instances, was brilliant.

President H. Lawrie is no figurehead in the club, as his performances with the bat have clearly demonstrated. His defense I excelled by none, while his hitting powers are such as to have gained for him the respect of the fielders. His score of 37 last Saturday was the result of a faultiess innings, and brought him into first place, as far as the batting averages are concerned. Should he but continue as he has begun, the chances of his winning the "Presentation Cup" are stong indeed. Mr. Lawrie is a good bowler and a fair field.

Secretary Doyle, with becoming but probably faise modesty, in his report fails to give himself due credit for his good cricket. His bowling at all times is good and hard to hit, while his batting is strong in defense and his hitting powerful, as instanced in Saturday's game. His hit for six to square leg was a clean-cut "la-la," and all the runs were carned.

R. W. Taylor is getting back his old Saturday was the result of a faultless in-the runs were carned.

R. W. Taylor is getting back his old form with the bat, and his 25 on Saturday was clean and neat.

G. W. Wilson missed it on Saturday, but the season is young. George is good for half a century any afternoon, but should defend his wicket a little more stubbornly. His hitting is all right.

F. H. Marshall is playing in hard luck, but there's a good time coming to he whowaits.

but there's a good time coming to he who waits.

Harry New has yet to be heard from. Get a move on you, Harry.

The brothers Young, P. and R., showed some remarkably strong cricket on Saturday, and great things are expected from them in the future. They made the bowlers tired-just a little.

A. S. Gleave was punished, but a little practice is all he wants. He put down some "darlings" that were hard to hit.

The brothers Vaughan, G. H. and W. R., are strong all 'round players, and hard to replace in the field. George is always on the "spot," while their batting is free and always counts.

the "spot," while their batting is free and always counts.

The boys miss the genial presence of Dr. Lanyon in late games. Doe never requised a catch, much to the chagrin of the batter, but that was what he was there for. The bowlers sometimes tried to fool with him, but got left. Get up a team, Doe, and come over to Omaha. We are always willing to accommodate our friends—with a drubbing.

A. D. Robb is on deck. That leg break of his was very destructive on Decoration day. His batting always counts, while he never fails in a catch, even if he has to stand on both hands to take it.

That one-hand catch of George Wilson's is good, but very annoying—to the batter. Give the boys a chance, George.

Rev. Mr. Liwyd is a popular and useful member, and, boys, don't place a ball near him if you wish to make runs.

A. Gayin hasn't retired from business, only he is waiting for his day, and when it comes, look out, boys, and spread your field. field.

Dr. Young is doing good all 'round work and never fails when wanted.

Keep together, boys, in the field, and do more team playing, and strengthen our weak points. We haven't many, but there are some leaky apots here and there. Play cricket, always that's what counts. SCRUTATOR. TYNAN A MASK FOR THE TIMES

KIFFER'S ARBITRATION SCHEME. Plan of Minnesota's Representative for the Adjusting of Labor Disputes. WASHINGTON, June 4 .- A plan for adjusting labor differences through a national board of arbitration has been formulated by Representative Kiefer of Minnesota. The bill provides for the appointment by the president of three commissioners of arbitration. The commissioner of labor is made exofficio a member of the arbitration board. The governor of a state in which a labor controversy occurs is also a member. The board of arbitration thus consists of five members

In order to secure the offices of the board, application is first made to the governor, the form of application being set forth in the bill. The application being set forth in the bill. The application may be made by employers or employes. In the latter case it must be in behalf of at least fifty employes of an organization having 1,000 members throughout the country. If the governor is satisfied that a conflict exists which cannot be amicably settled he applies to the national board of architecture. board of arbitration to take charge of the question. The board assembles in the state capitol, hears evidence and arbitrates the differences in the usual manner. Its decisions are made as binding as those of a for enforcing the decision of arbitration. Pending the hearings of the board the governor is clothed with powers to preserve the peace and suppress a strike.

Mr. Kiefer appreciates that the states right argument will be raised against the bill. He has conferred with a number of lawyers, however, and he is hopeful of having the bill conform to all constitutional require-

IDEAS OF LEADING IRISHMEN ON HIS BOOK

Pat Egan Tells of the Desperate Efforts of London's Anti-Irish Organ to Substantiate Its "Parnellism and Crime" Allegations.

ST. LOUIS, June 4.-Hon, Patrick Egan, ex-minister to Chill, who was so closely related to the late Charles Stewart Parnell and Michael Davitt in Irish Land league affairs, says regarding P. J. Tynan's book containing startling confessions and charges relative to the Irish Invincibles which resulted in the Phoenix Park assassinations: "It is stated in New York that Typan's writing and publication of this book is at the Instigation of the London Times, which is believed to be making a second attempt to connect the late Mr. Parnell and the Parnellite party with the extreme Invincible wing of Irish agitators charged with the assassination of Cavendish. The Times' object in doing this is said to be that of throwing such discredit on the present home rule movement and the English liberal party as to result in a tory victory at the next British election, which may now occur at 'most any day owing to the dwindling majority of the liberal vote. The result to be ac-complished should the Times be able to convince England that Parnell and his followers in the Land league were cognizant of the schemes of assassination would be a vindica tion of its own attacks on Parnell and others of the Irish leaders in the famous, but now discredited series of articles on 'Parnellism and Crime,' which appearing in the Times led to the clearing of Parnell through the discovery of the Pigott forgeries.

"I know of my own knowledge that the Times has been engaged in this second movement now for the past two years. I also know that the Times has emissarles this country at present engaged in the search for evidence that may go to prove that Parnell or the Land league was cognizant of the plans of the extremist wing the frish agitators, the wing that urged the employment of force in the struggle against England, and that advocated assassination "I do not express an opinion as to what may or may not have led Tynan to write and publish this book. I cannot pass judgment on the correctness of his details as to the formation of the Invincibles, or as to the Invincibles, or as to the Invincibles, or as to the plans of the assassination of Cavendish. I know nothing of the Invincibles or of the assassination plans. At the time of the murder of Cavendish I was living in Parls.

"The charge that Parnell knew of these plans or that he was aware of the determina-tion to keep the office of chief secretary for Ireland vacant by assassination or that he urged more vigorous action when the In-vincibles falled at assassination is absurd on the face of it. By none will it be more quickly discredited than by those members of the British Parliament who knew Parnell If Parnell or the Land league or any Parneli's followers had had any connection with these crimes the fact would surely have become known, because the London Times ransacked Ireland, France, England and the United States for evidence that would establish this connecting link, buying up every one it could, spending, in all, over $1,000,000, and then failed in the attempt. cannot account for Tynan's charges except that he may be mentally unsound. If he really was the "No. 1" of the conspiracy ending in the assassination of Lord Caven-dish, is it likely that he would acknowledge even though he might be protected by extradition? I do not know whether or not the United States would give him up were a demand made by England, but it seems to gaged in such a conspiracy and murder would publish the fact to the world '

PAT FORD CALLS IT A PLOT. NEW YORK, June 4.-The World prints interviews with several prominent Irishmen on the subject of Tynan's book. Patrick Ford, editor of the Irish World, for many years prominent in Irish national affairs, says Tynan's book is nothing more than an effort to discredit the Irish leaders in the interest of the tory party. He says Tynan never knew Parnell.

"I knew Tynan when he carre to this country, after the Phoenix park murders," he said. "I consider him a ders.' good, honest man, but somewhat of a crank on the question of physi-cal force. He could not see straight on that question. It seems to me his book is exceptionally well timed for this purpose. The government forces in Parliament are in a shaky condition. The present cabinet started in with only a small majority in Parliament, has had that majority greatly reduced and the tories are trying to get control. It seems very clear to me that there is some sort of an understanding be-tween the author of this book and the party interested in overthrowing the governmen TYNAN TELLS WHY HE DID IT.

P. J. P. Tynan, the "No. 1" of the Irish Invincibles, and the author of the "revels tions," was seen at his home, No. 19 Kings-bridge road. He said: "The fight is on now, and the wolves who have been snarl-ing at my heels for years will begin to snarl afresh. I care nothing for them shoulders are broad enough to stand whatever may be put on them in the way of abuse almost without end. The British n papers have already begun their tactics, I see, But I tell you"—and here Mr. Tynan raised his hand to heaven and spoke slowly and deliberately—"that every word in this book is true and every event, with scarcely an exception, I have taken part in. My wife and even my children, who did not come to this country until after I did, knew most of the facts. It was time the revelations were made, and it was but just that I should make them."

Arranging an Excursion. For some time past the lower Missouri iver towns have been quietly undermining the standing of Omaha in Superior and Hastings territory to such an extent that the Commercial club has about determined to run an excursion of jobbers and business men to points along the line of the Elkhorn ouching Lincoln, Hastings and Superior entour. In fact, arrangements have been so far progressed that the dates, June 14, 15 and 16, have about been agreed upon and the train will be run special, fifty busieas men of the city having signified their intention to participate in the excursion. There will be no sleepers attached to the train for the tourists mean to live, eat and sleep among their friends, who have about

SELLING BEER BY WEIG HT.

Rochester Saloon Keepers Adopt a New Plan for the "Growler" Trade. A Rochester (N. Y.) Democrat man recently happened in one of the numerous drinking places on the East side, patronized by the better class of citizens residing there abouts. While chatting with the proprietor of the place, a portly, good-natured German woman, with a shawl over her head, entered through a side door bearing in her hands a pitcher. There was nothing very remarkable about that, as the woman was evidently in quest of beer, but the way in which the German dealt out the beverage was what attracted the attention of the reporter. Inatend of measuring out the beer, as is customary, in a shining copper pot, the saloonkeeper placed the pitcher on a small pair of scales, weighed it and then proceeded to fill it with foaming beer until he had counted "One, two, three, four, etc., up to ten. The pitcher was again placed on the scales and, after transferring a dime to the palm of the dispenser, the woman seized it and vanished. "What is the idea of weighing the beer asked the reporter. "Is it a new scheme?"

"Well, I don't know as the idea is very new," was the answer, "but it saves a lot of "You see," went on the German, "in this section we do a big pail trade, and while it is rather a nuisance we are obliged to sub-mit to it. By weighing the bear uniform measure is obtained and therefore the customers can't say that they receive more at one time than at another. A pint a pound is the motto we go by, and when the bear comes through the pipe at its usual pressure a quart can be drawn while counting ten and we are seldom out of the way even a him 12 cents for it."

"But is the custom of weighing beer generally practiced in Rochester?"
"Most of the respectable saloons deal it out in this way. At first the customers kick, but gradually they become accustemed to the notion and appreciate its beauties. The scheme first originated in the tenement house district of New York and is spread-ing through the state. In time every quart of beer retailed will be sold by weight. Grocers will probably catch the idea, and ten years from now, instead of asking for a quart of molasses or kerosene oil, you'll call for the equivalent in pounds."

BOUNCING THE BABOON.

A Stranded Sea Captain Cheerfully Assists Savage beasts, even in their native wilds sometimes recognize an act of kindness, and show their gratitude by the most unmistaka-ble signs," remarked Thomas Maynard, an old sea captain, to the Globe-Democrat, "A number of years ago the ship which I then commanded was becalmed off the coast of India, and, taking a boat load of men, I went ashore in search of fresh water. In some way I became separated from the crew and, in wandering around, was a good deal startled at coming directly upon a full grown tigress. Much to my surprise the beast did not make any hostile demonstrations toward me, but crouching on ground looked steadfastly, first at my face and then at a tree a short distance away For a time I could not understand this con-duct, and, not daring to run for fear she would at once overtake me, I stood rooted to

On turning my gaze aloft I saw among the branches of the tree what had caused the evident solicitation of the tigress. perched in one of the limbs, sat a big baboor with two little tiger cubs in its arms. Hav-ing an ax with me I started to cut the tree down, the tigress watching me intently all the while. When the tree fell, and the three animals with it, the tigress pounced upon the baboon and with great fury despatched it. After gently caressing her offspring she turned to me with a look which plainly expressed her thanks for the service I had rendered her. She then disappeared in the forest, her two cubs trotting behind her.

THE WORLD'S BEVERAGE.

Statistics on the Production and Consump tion of Beer. The advocates of total abstinence from alcoholic liquors can hardly derive much encouragement from some figures published by a French paper on the world's production of beer, It appears that in the whole of Europe 3,036,000,000 gallons of beer are produced every year. Germany makes the largest quantity, and upholds its national reputation with 1,051,664,000 gallons, of which 630,380,with 1,051,054,000 gailons, or which 630,380,-850 gallons are contributed by northern Germany, 337,167,409 gallons by Bavaria, 69,-817,000 gallons by Wurtemberg, 55,191,000 gallons by the Duchy of Baden, and 16,703,-900 by Alsace Lorraine. After Germany comes the United Kingdom, and then Austria follows with 302,025,000 gallons. Bohemin alone is represented in this amount by nearly 110,000,000 gallons, and lower Austria (i ing Vienna) by more than 44,000,000 gallons The people of Belgium consume 220,000,000 gallons, of Denmark 52,492,000 gallons, and of Norway 37,673,000 gallons. Next in order comes Russia, with 61,427,000 gallons, Switz-crland with 26,101,000 gallons, Spain with 22,550,000 gallons, Italy with 3,029,000 gallons, Turkey with 3,080,000 gallons, Roumania with 220,000 gallons, Luxemburg with 2,066,000 gallons, Servia with 2,046,000 gal-lons, and Greece with 213,000 gallons. It is curious to note that outside of Europe little

CHEROKEES GET THEIR CASH

Six Millions and a Half to Be Paid Out to the Indians.

COLLECTORS WATCHING FOR THEIR PAY

Some of the Indians Give Them the Slip and in Some Cases the Aborigines Have Nothing Left When the Collectors Get Through.

TAHLEQUAH, I. T., June 4 .- The disbursement of the $6,500,000 to the Cherokee Indians began here today. It will take the treasurer two weeks to complete the payment at this station, after which he will go to other points and distribute the funds until each Indian has received his percapita. One million six hundred thousand iollars of the above amount now reposes in the treasurer's office in the Cherokee state house here and 100 members of the Cherokee Light guards, the surest shots in the service, patrol the grounds, the upper and lower corridors of the state house and the principal streets of the town. Should the Daltons or any gang attempt to carry away the treasure they would be riddled with bullets before they could walk across the street. None but persons of the Cherokee blood are allowed in the state house while the payment is going on. All day Friday, Saturday and Sunday the Cherokees have been pouring in, most of them camping out of town. During the night preceding the opening of the payment flickering torches stuck in the ground threw weird lights upon the armed guards who patrolled the grounds. Among the crowds were Cherokees of all ages. Every infant, by the way, draws its per capita, $265.68, the same as any adult. It is said there have been 500 Cherokee babies born within the last three months and some of them are not over twenty-four hours old, and these will also come in for their shares. The districts now being paid are the Tahlequah and the Going Snake districts. A record of each Indian has been made and each files past the treasurer, to whom he gives his name. The rolls are referred to and if the name given is found the Indian gets his money and that of his squaw and children. After getting his money he has to pass the gauntlet of the money he has to pass the gauntlet of the collectors for the various firms who have debtors among the Cherokees. The Indians became indignant, however, and tore down the wooden railing which had been erected to permit the collectors to "dun" the Indians. One man, who was standing in line ready to catch his debtors, had out over $250.000 and he freely admitted that he $250,000, and he freely admitted that he could lose 25 per cent of this and still make a good profit. There were many amusing incidents. Those who proposed to pay their debts when they pleased would dodge under the ropes along which they had to walk and thus escape the collectors. Another, who owed a merchant $210, threw the collector a $10 bill and said; "Not another d—d cent till I get ready." A weary looking old squaw, who came out clutching $700 in crisp bills, was headed off by collector after collector and when she got to the end of the line, she did not have a cent left. She walked away sobbing bitterly.

When the treasurer closed the doors tonight $75,000 had been paid. It will take twelve days to complete the payment here and by September 1 the whole amount will have been distributed. Chief Harris ap-
